

SF 6.2A1: Overview of aptitude test

All DDU-GKY centres must follow a scientific process of allotting courses to candidates by understanding the aptitude of the candidates. This is to ensure that the candidates learn what they like. A commonly followed aptitude test is the John Holland's Interest Inventory. PIA's can follow the same or any other instrument which is suitable to them. They need to inform the SRLMs for APS and CTSA for YPS about the form they propose to use.